April 2007 Newsletter

Dear AFI Members and friends,

A big thank you to our President Stan Sutherland with his intriguing presentation on Astrocography last meeting—it certainly shed light on why some places are more comfortable to live and operate in than others. This month we welcome back Colleen Coffey, President of the ASNZ, and always an engaging speaker, with 'The Astrology of a Kidnapping' - see below.

With the equinox, eclipses and daylight saving adjustments behind us, we could all do with a little breathing space before 1 April when Mercury meets up with Uranus and the North Node in Pisces.

Thereafter Saturn and Jupiter take centre stage with a lingering trine by both changing directions— Jupiter turning retrograde on 6 April (Good Friday) and Saturn turning direct on 19 April.

The month comes a close with a repeat Pisces note when Mars moves through the North Node and Uranus. Best wishes to you all and a happy Easter

Rachel

The Astrology of a Kidnapping

In March 1998, Natasha Kampusch, an 8-year old Austrian schoolgirl, was kidnapped. In August 2006 after 8 years imprisonment, Natasha broke free.

This case is full of intrigue. Does Astrology throw any light on the whole starry episode?

Sunday Workshop with Colleen

This class/workshop run over two Sundays centres on family relationships — our inherited astrological characteristics, either by sign, house placement or aspect and the continuing thread that runs through generation after generation.

The class will look at what happens when families merge and combine; adoption and the throw back to prior generations.

Investigating the value of multiple composite charts. Suitable for all levels.

When: Sunday 15 April and Sunday 20 May 2007

Venue: 119 Queen Street, Northcote Point

10 am - 4 pm

$70 per day - Booking essential
