AFI Sunday Evening Lectures

Sunday 1st November
Colleen Coffey

A simple guide to reading Solar Arc Directions

Solar Arc Directions are not the poor cousin of Secondary Progressions; they are in fact the simplest and most graphic form of forecasting. The natal chart not only lays down the blue print of who we are but also by its very configuration determines where we will travel - a journey that is often well illustrated by Solar Arc. We shall look at the simple rules for reading them - tips and tricks of how to train the eye to recognize times of interest, and which are the best options offered by your computer program. We will see how easy it is when we apply the 'kiss' principal - and keep it very simple.

Fixed Stars

Time: 10:00 am—4.00 pm

Date: Sunday 29th November Fee: $80

To explore the fixed stars is to explore the heavens. Out There. To familiarise oneself with the stars in the night sky - not as randomly scattered pinpoints of light - but as distant stars that to the ancients formed part of selected groupings to reflect the mythology and legends of the time. What part do the fixed stars play in your birth chart, in your life? This workshop opens your eyes to a whole new world Out There!

Registration essential. Contact Carol 021 044 8666 caros@astrologyschool.com
