AFI Sunday Evening Lectures

Sunday 4th October
AGM—6.30pm start

Followed by Hamish Saunders

Why can't we all just get along?

Relating with others is central to human life and the establishing and maintaining of significant relationships is an ongoing concern in most people's lives. For centuries, astrologers have been called upon to determine the compatibility of marriage partners and the potential longevity of their union. We shall look at some of the techniques used by Western and Indian Vedic astrologers to find out why some relationships work extremely well and others are doomed to fail.

Local Classes and Workshops

Deborah Houlding Workshop

Saturday 17th October 10:00am — 5:00pm

World renowned English astrologer Deborah Houlding will be presenting a one day only workshop in New Zealand.

To make the most of this special day, Deborah will cover two different topics, both are suitable for all levels of experience, from beginner to practitioner. Each topic includes material that is new and uniquely put together and as yet unpublished in the UK. These lectures are geared to the Traditional and Modern astrology student alike and both presentations are designed to clarify much contemporary confusion.

Understanding Planetary Dignities and Receptions

This talk clarifies the differentiations of dignities and debilities in practical use, and explains how (and in what circumstances) receptions become important in Horary and traditional astrology. Deborah will demonstrate how to judge the most likely effects of different kinds of aspects; for example, harmonious aspects involving debilitated planets, and difficult aspects involving dignified planets. This lecture demonstrates with practical examples whether we should avoid an impending problem or tackle it head on. A lecture that will serve as an introduction to those unfamiliar with dignities but it will fill in the gaps for those who think they have the subject well covered.

Understanding the Traditional Approach to the Judgement of Relationship Charts

This talk is mainly focused upon horary astrology, but it reviews a number of traditional principles related to 'relationship issues', which cut across a broad spectrum of modern and traditional techniques. It explains (and clarifies) the traditional concepts that underlie the horary judgement of intimate relationships: differentiating between 5th and 7th house 'love issues', the importance of reception, and the astrological indications of dominance, desire or disinterest. Modern examples will be referred to in a highly practical explanation of the philosophies that are embedded in the horary art, and which need to be properly understood to bring clarity to the chart.

This is a very special event – numbers are limited -registration essential – reserve your place now.

Venue: 119 Queen Street, Northcote Point Fee: $120 includes refreshments

The Cosmic Dance of Connection

Sunday 18th October 10:30am to 5pm

Venue: Highbury House, Hinemoa St, Birkenhead

This is an excellent workshop for a beginner or for a student wanting to refresh their knowledge of the astrological dynamics of relationships.

Astrology reveals our true nature, by defining which of the four elements are active and which of the three modalities are operating. For example, Virgo is the combo of elemental earth, defining a practical nature plus a 'mutable' mode of operation. Of course in relationships, it's usually the opposites that attract each other! And the fun begins.

In this workshop armed with the insights about your own elemental nature, you will also explore your relationship dynamics as the cosmic dance. Learn about your dominant element and mode of operation, via all your planets. Go beyond the Sunsign. This could explain many mysteries about your own behaviour.

Fee: $90 Please provide all birth details. Your birth chart and explanatory notes will be given to you. Afternoon tea provided.
